LODC on the road!

When people move to the Ozarks from big cities, they have been heard to say, “there is nothing to do here”. Donnie Brown, Josh Hepner, Michael Huebner, Autumn Gold, Dennis Jones etc. would be the first to tell them there is a lot to see and do in the Ozarks. They recently had the fun of touring Dickerson Park Zoo in Springfield. Just view the smiling faces below and you can see how much joy they get out of the sunshine, animals, friends, and seeing new places. Previously in the year, they have toured Wonders of Wildlife National Museum and Aquarium as well as Bennett Springs, Fishing at Public Beach 2, learning about Native American Flues in Macks Creek, and learning more about nature from the Conservation Dept. Michel reports that he was kissed on the chin by a Giraffe!
